Remember when having the guests name on the TV upon entry was the most advanced in room tech on the market???

In today's standards, it's a missed benchmark. Even worse when it's wrong.....

What's the coolest hotel tech you' seen recently???

The screenshot shows the Revinate website's resource library. At the top left is the Revinate logo. The navigation menu includes 'Solutions', 'Resources' (which is highlighted with a blue underline), 'About', and 'Support'. A blue button labeled 'Free consultation' is positioned to the right of the navigation. Below the navigation, the page is divided into four columns. The first column, 'Podcast', lists 'Now playing', 'Meet your host', and 'Episodes'. The second column, 'Webinars', lists 'Upcoming webinar', 'Previous webinars', and 'Subscribe'. The third column, 'Blog', lists 'Revinate Marketing', 'Reservation Sales', 'Revinate Ivy', 'Revinate Feedback', and 'RezForce'. The fourth column, 'Guides', features a book cover titled '10 Do's & Don'ts for Your Call Center' with an illustration of a person at a computer.
